So loved to be captured on the run
So loved to be called a righteous one
So loved to be bought with death and pain
So loved to be brought to life again

Oh the love that conquered
Oh the blood that saved
Oh the reins of freedom
That lead me back to life again

So long is the avenue ahead
So long I’ve been lied to and misled
So long are the reaches of Your grace
So long is the journey back, the road that I retrace
